Gorgeous Spectacle, Superb Setting, Clever Acting!

Enacted by Child Actors!

"Jack and the Beanstalk" will delight children But again, there will be those among adults, still possessing a wistful recollection of younger days, who will find vast amusement and entertainment in it.

One of the principal features of "Jack and the Beanstalk" is the acting of the children who make up the cast, with the exception of the giant. The parts of Jack and the Princess are really marvelous. Francis Carpenter and Virginia Lee Corbin with a total of nine years to their combined credit, prove to be actual marvels.

IRRAWADDY PETROIEUM OIL SYNDICATE LIMITED,

(AND REDUCED.)

THE Company was registered in Rangoon on 28th November, 1910, with the Authorized Capital of Rs. 30,00,000 divided into 3,00,000 shares of Rs. 10 each. These shares were issued to the Vendors, Brokers and others, there being no provision made for working capital as the areas were subletted. At a meeting of the Directors of the Company held on 9th April, 1920, it was resolved that the Company be reorganised by reduction of the capital of 3,00,000 of shares from Rs. 10 a share to Rs. 2-8 a share and by the issue of 9,00,000 of fresh shares of the face value of Rs. 2-8 each. Messrs. Moton and Co., having agreed to underwrite such fresh issue of shares. The above propositions were agreed to by the Share-holders at Extraordinary General Meetings held on 5th, May and 23rd, June, 1920. An application was made to the Chief Court of Lower Burma to confirm the reorganisation of the Company which was subsequently confirmed, and the scheme was sanctioned by the Court on 22nd November, 1920.

(1) By reducing the face value of the existing 3,00,000 of fully paid up shares from Rs. 10 to Rs. 2-8 per share fully paid.

(2) By issue of 9,00,000 of fresh shares of the face value of Rs. 2-8 per share payable as follows:—

0-3-0 on application,
0-3-0 on allotment, and
1-8-0 by calls of 0-8/0 every 3 months.

By reason of the reduction and reorganisation so confirmed the capital of the Company is now Rs. 30,00,000 divided into 12,00,000 shares of the face value of Rs. 2-8 each of which 3,00,000 shares are fully paid up, and according to this the fresh scrips are to be issued henceforth Rs. 2-8 each instead of those of Rs. 10 each, and the remaining shares are to be offered to the public for subscription to raise working capital upon the above terms. An Agreemement referred to above for underwriting shares has been entered into on 18th January, 1921.

Persons desirous of taking shares in the new issue should communicate with the Secretary of the Company, No. 50, Merchant Street, Rangoon, who will supply prospectuses in due course, if requested to do so. C8283

COTTON.

(From our Correspondent.)

Bombay, Feb. 11.

The Marwari Bazar opened this morning for Fully Good M. G. Broach at Rs. 302½ and eased down to Rs. 301. It then advanced to Rs. 302¼ which was the rate at 3 p.m. The Bazar finally closed at Rs. 305. At Colaba the market opened at Rs. 305½ and after touching Rs. 303¼ closed at Rs. 304¾.

Our market for ready cotton remains easier, in sympathy with continued lower advices from Home markets. Exporters are poor buyers while local millwalas buy some lots for their immediate wants.

PIECE-GOODS.

There has been no activity in the Cloth Market during the past week. Considerable anxiety has been felt owing to the absence of demand. Prices have been nominally quoted at the level of the previous week, but at the time of transactions the sellers have had to give way considerably in prices in order to effect sales, and that too, for quantities of a quarter package at a time. Some needy sellers have been forcing sales by cutting down the rates by ten to fifteen per cent below the current values, but the response has not been quite satisfactory, although some lots have changed hands amongst the merchants in the bazaar. Stocks have been accumulating everywhere and the movement of goods has been restricted. From the corrections notified by the Bombay Chamber of Commerce in the figures for December 1920, which were issued on 22nd January last it appears that the stock at the end of December was 9,379 packages more than that of November, the increase in bales being 2,016, (instead of a decrease of 6,984 bales as previously shewn), and the increase in cases being 6,363. Over and above this huge stock of 82,000 packages, several bales have been lying in private godowns of Japanese and other firms, and to these are to be added goods in course of landing and in Transit sheds. The figures for the end of January 1921, it is expected, will shows further increases and the holdings of dealers in their own godowns are estimated at over thirty thousand packages.

The political unrest and the Swadeshi movement have been the main causes of the curtailment of the demand and the news of the slump in the Lancashire trade has made matters worse. It is reported that many manufacturers are not disposed to open their weaving sheds again until fresh orders steadily flow in. Generally, makers remain weak in price when tested and the quotations are said to hardly cover the cost of production. Shippers abroad have not been inclined to anticipate the future wants of their customers here and rather wish to see the shipments cleared off before further commitments are made.

The announcement made at Birmingham by Mr. Chamberlain of the practical abandonment of the Excess Profits Duty without substitution of new taxation in the forthcoming budget, will enable the makers to quote on a lower basis and the curtailment of wages will also tend to produce the same effect. In view of all this, prices here will have to be lowered to stimulate the consumption. The British Exports of Cotton Goods and Woollens have decreased by 7 and 3½ millions respectively as stated in the British Trade Returns.

It is creditable on the part of the Scotch Woollen Manufacturers to have issued circulars offering to reduce their prices by no less than two shillings per yard for cloths at present left on their hands by merchants, with a view of staving off the crisis threatening the trade during the present scarcity of capital. The makers have urged that the merchants should enforce the point that the public get the advantage of the reduction. If the Manchester makers were to give a similar concession on bills still remaining unpaid, it would help the merchants to dispose off the goods at lower rates.

It is expected that the Cloth Markets will be entirely closed on 21st, 22nd and 23rd instant as these days are to be observed for "Chartal."

EXCHANGE.

Nothing fresh has transpired regarding the problem of exchange and the deadlock between the Importing Firms and the merchants in the bazaar still remains. Wiser counsels have prevailed with some firms who have privately shewn their willingness to agree to the two shillings exchange rate, as they know fully well that otherwise they would have to suffer far heavier loss.

At a meeting of the Madras Import Merchants' Association held on 4th instant, resolutions were passed that the Secretary of State and the Government of India be requested to take prompt means to ease the situation by stablising Exchange, by assisting importers to enable them to retire drafts now overdue and to become due at the rate of two shillings per rupee, at least in respect of transactions entered into since the publication of the Currency Committee's report and by giving long-term credits through the Exchange Bank. The meeting resolved that until some definite relief is assured, and by way of temporary measure importers do not retire or accept any drafts except in cases where the rate of exchange has been previously fixed by contract, where payment is accepted at the rate of two shillings per rupee, or where an allowance of at least thirty per cent. of invoice price is granted. It further resolved in case of no relief in a reasonable period, that it will be the duty of all importers to turn to Indian goods and to reduce their dependence on foreign imports and call upon all merchants to promote Swadeshi in regard to textiles and leather.

On the other hand at a joint meeting of the East India section of the London Chamber of Commerce and Indent Merchants, interested in Indian Trade, a resolution was passed strongly disapproving of the action of Commercial Association in India in instructing their members to refuse to pay drafts unless the rate of exchange is not under two shilings to rupee, declaring that it is contrary to LOCAL MARKET.

On the 4th instant Broach touched Rs. 297 went up to Rs. 315 on the 7th instant and closed yesterday at Rs. 305½. Fine Oomra for March opened Rs. 237 on the 4th, went up to Rs. 246 on the 7th and closed at Rs. 237 on the 10th. F. G. Bengal for March opened at Rs. 200 on the 4th, went up to Rs. 206 on the 7th and closed at Rs. 200 on the 10th.

Weeks ago, when F. G. Broach was Rs. 340 we recommended our friends to sell Broach freely. We still recommend them to sell Broach freely at this level as one can by ready lots of the above description between Rs. 250 to Rs. 260 which can easily pass through in survey. At present Broach cotton is irriving in small lots, but what mill become of the market when they commence arriving in large quantity.

Our market for ready cotton remained dull and quiet during the week, and the inquiry was limited to really nice quality only while ordinary cotton was neglected. The inquiry both from Exporters and local millwalas was very limited. About 7,000 to 8,000 Rs. were reported to have been sold.

BOMBAY AMUSEMENTS.

THE OPERA COMPANY.

The Opera Company at the Excelsior Theatre has but a few more days. To-night (Saturday) and to-morrow (Sunday) there are to be repetitions of "The Bohemian Girl," which has been voted by many to be the best of the productions of the company, and next week there will be blends of some of the operas which have been most appreciated in Bombay, together with two, or possibly three concerts in which classical music will be the main feature.

THE EMPIRE.

Those who care to follow the activities the Duke of Connaught in India have the opportunity of doing so on the screen at the Empire Cinema. During this week his visit to Calcutta is being screened.

Another Mary Pickford film is being shown to-night at the Empire. "Heart of the Hills" is the title, and in it this charming little cinema actress appears as a daughter of the mountains, a role in which she is as much at home as she is in most of the films in which she takes the part of a frolic some flapper. She is so young in this film that the parson refuses to marry her, but after the adventures she goes through it may be presumed that the objections are removed and that she has estaplished her claim to participation in the sweets of married life.

THE EMPRESS.

"The Trail of the Octopus" takes on a new phase this week. We find the heroine in the harem of a Turkish nobleman, and by hynotic suggestion she loses her identity and assumes the character of a woman whose temerament is totally different. She does not recognise the detective whose fortunes are so bound up with her own, and the climax of the instalment comes when she raises a dagger to stab him.

In the new instalment we see also a little more of the mysterious "Mr. X," round whom most of the mystery of the film centres. The interest in the film certainly deepens with the new instalment, and one attribute which this film possesses is that the thread of the story may be picked up at any period.

THE EXCELSIOR.

"The Girl Who Could'nt Grow U" is the title of a film in which Margarita Fisher is appearing at the Excelsior Theatre when the Opera Company is not in possession. It is a vivacious little tale of a tom-girl who plays all sorts of praks and at one time finds herself by mistake in the bedroom of a certain lively young nobleman. Miss Fischer can always be relied upon to mak the most of such a part as this, and sh does.

INCORRIGIBLE PATHAN THIEF.

STRANGE PLEA FOR NOT GOING TO JAIL.

Before Mr. Frank Oliviera at the Esplanade Police Court, Prosecuting Inspector Finan charged Khabkhan Nizam alias Gulam Kader Khan a Punjabi Pathan with the theft of a typewriter and some clothes from the "Rangoon Maru" lying in the Bombay Harbour. The accused pleaded guilty and he was convicted.

Mr. Finan informed the Court that the accused, who had ten previous convictions had still thirteen years to serve, but he had broken out of the jail several times and had again and again committed theft. He had made a speciality of committing thefts on steamers, while in harbours, at Rangoon. Karachi Calcutta and Bombay. Mr. Khairaz had sentenced him in August last, the prisoner having been brought down for his trial from Calcutta where he was serving a sentence of seven years' rigorous imprisonment.

"SET A THIEF TO COATCH THIEVES!"

The acused said it was useless to send him to jail again, as he would very soon break out of jail. The best thing for the Court to do was to get him employed in the police and he would catch many thieves. The accused was sentenced to two years' rigorous imprisonment, three months out of which were to be in solitary confinement.

A CORRECTION.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—In your issue of the 27th you published a letter from Mr. Baptista in which the following passage occurs regarding the new postmen:— —

"Nevertheless these unfit fellows still draw Rs. 3 a day. What an example of the unfitness of the authorities to be in charge of the Post Office when they give the new worthless lot Rs. 3 a day, "whereas they give the old tried and tsted men only their old pay."

2. Mr. Baptista's statement that the new postmen are being paid Rs. 3 a day is incorrect. They are being paid at the rate sanctioned by Government viz., 27—27—27—1—45, plus Rs. 7 house allowance.

3. I shall be much obliged if you will kindly publish this correction.—Yours etc.,

DISTINCTION OF TEMPLES.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—For many days, it was reported that the Maharaja of Sikar, under Jaipur State, intended putting down several local temples, and the report has after all unfortunately proved true. Four temples were pulled down on Tuesday the 18th January of this year. It is understood that the Maharaja has acted in this fashion, contrary to the Hindu religion to which he belongs, in order to make bigger roads for conducting, with decoration, the procession, at the time of the marriage of his daughter. Many Hindus had taken objections not to do this irreligious deed, because they said that thereby the feelings of his Hindu subjects would be severely wounded. But the Maharaja of Sikar remained obstinate and turned a deaf ear to the continuous complaints lodged by his people, by not listening to them, and threatened them with all sorts of penalties if they complained any more. Through fear, poor Hindus became nervous and sat silent in their houses. The rich and the pundits are also supporting the Maharaja in this irreligious deed; so the poor people of the place have a cause to doubt the real sympathy towards the Hindu religion of these rich men and learned shastris, who were boasting of their Hindu religion so long by blowing their trumpets. While the religious feelings of Hindus are thus outraged, these rich men and and learned shastris have not enough courage to object to this deed of the Maharaja. These were the first persons to object, if any political demand was put forth by the common people. Had there been any voice of the people in the political affairs of the place, such an incident would never have happened. It is also very wicked on the part of the Maharaja, in these days of unity, when the Musalmans are showing their sympathy towards the Hindus by respecting the Hindu temples and the cows, to wound the feeling of his Hindu subjects, professing himself a representative of the Hindu religion on the throne. We hope some steps will be taken by the authorities concerned in this affair, to redress the wrongs of the subjects.—Yours, etc.,

"A HINDU."

END OF POST AND TELEGRAPH STRIKE.

MEN RESUMED WORKS ON FRIDAY.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Through the advice and good offices of Mr. V. G. Dalvi, Bar-at-Law, Honorary Secretary of the Posts and Telegraph Unions, a settlement of the strike is arrived at with Mr. N. Vaughan, Presidency Postmaster and Mr. P. N. Mitra, Superintendent of the Central Telegraphic Office. Both Posts and Telegraph men resumed work to-day at ten o'clock.

Thus the strike comes to an end after 145 days.

Yesterday a meeting was held at Gowalia Tank Maidan and the terms of compromise were explained to the men by Mr. Dalvi and they decided to resume work on Mr. Dalvi's advice. The postal authorities have given an undertaking that as soon as the men resume work their grievances will be considered.

THE GROWTH OF INTOLERANCE.

The message from Mr. C. F. Andrews which we published on Thursday relating to the disturbances at public meetings lately in Bombay, will have, we hope, a salutary effect upon that noisy element among the students which has not sense enough to see that such disturbances are not a service to the cause they have at heart. If anyone has power over all Indian students it is Mr. Andrews, and so far as genuine students, and genuine non-cooperating students more particularly, are concerned, his words, we feel quite sure, will have their due effect. But the non-cooperating students have, at least on one occasion, proved an alibi; and from our own inquiries we have come to doubt if genuine Non-Cooperators, whether students or grown men, are really to be blamed for these regrettable occurrences. By genuine non-cooperators we mean students or grown men who have made the sacrifice required of them by the Congress Resolution and enlisted in the movement under discipline. The "Liberals," when they speak of Non-Cooperators, seem to us to mean anyone who objects to their opinions with a shout of "Mahatma Gandhi ki Jai!" That is to confuse an organised movement with people who do not belong to it; and Mr. Andrews seems to us to have been misled by newspaper reports into the same confusion of ideas when he writes: "I cannot go on in the movement with the same heart if these practices continue." At the same time we heartily agree with his desire that they should be stopped and stopped at once by decided action of the organised movement, which cannot afford any longer to ignore these rowdy sympathisers, but must take firm charge of them. It was for this that we suggested that a dozen Swarajya Sabha volunteers should be told off for duty at Mr. Sastri's last lecture—a suggestion which has been received with indignation in some quarters, as we gather from the report of an interview published in our columns on Thursday last.

"The suggestion that a dozen Swarajya Sabha volunteers should be sufficient to keep order was uncalled for, as no Chairman or lecturer would consent to speak under the sufferance of their political opponents," we read with great astonishment. For what then have the Liberals been pleading? Every chairman or lecturer speaks under the sufferance of his audience which, when it is a public audience, may include political opponents. It is courtesy on the part of the audience if they consent to listen quietly to his remarks at all, much more to his remarks which happen to be of a nature calculated to displease them; this dependence on the courtesy of the audience is recognised by every public speaker, or so we thought before we read those words of Mr. Kanji Dwarkadas. The lack of any such recognition on the part of Chairman or lecturer would in itself account for the disorders at the recent meetings. The fault, perhaps, is not on one side only.

PRIMARY TEACHERS

Twenty thousand primary teachers in this Presidency are anxiously waiting to see how the Hon. Mr. Paranjpye, Minister of Education, is going to justify the trust they have placed in him and to discharge the heavy responsibilities which he has voluntarily undertaken. The Committee of the Bombay Legislative Council, to which the duty of advising Government on the question of affording relief to these badly paid teachers was assigned, have practically shifted the burden on the Minister of Education, on the ostensible plea that they did not feel justified in recommending any action "which would be calculated to embarrass the Minister," but really in view of the difficulty of finding the ways and means, after what may be truly described as the open loot of the public treasury by the higher ranks of the service. On the very threshold of the "New Era," thanks to this loot and to the exorbitant demands of the Central Government, the local administration is faced with a huge deficit, which some estimate at nearly two crores and the cry all round is "cut down the budget," regardless of all justice and consequences. And, as it invariably happens in such eleventh-hour awakening and frenzied attempts at "economy," it is the humblest and the least vocal who suffer. After the sumptuous repast indulged in by the higher ranks of the service, there are not even crumbs to throw to all the 20,000 wretches left shivering in the cold outside, though these are the persons who have been entrusted with the responsibility of moulding the character of the future citizens of India. Not to appear wholly apathetic to the cry of distress the Committee have recommended some slight relief to the lowest grades of these low-paid public servants, but it is so very little, indeed, that it hardly touches anything but the fringe of the problem. That we are not wilfully minimising the "concessions" granted, may be seen from the fact that the Committee has recommended the grant of Rs. 23 only to untrained but qualified assistants, while the scheme proposed by Messrs. Sathe and Paranjpye has suggested Rs. 25 and that put forward by the Sholapur Conference last year and accepted by both Messrs. Sathe and Paranjpye had recommended a starting salary of Rs. 30. Headmasters also are left to be treated in the same niggardly manner, the unqualified getting Rs. 23 and the qualified Rs. 25. Even a coolie on daily wages can nowadays secure higher emoluments. How is Mr. Paranjpye proposing to mete out justice to these thousands of hard-working and important State servants Is he going to acquiesce in the recommendations of the Committee and leave these primary teachers to despair? Provision ought to be made, at any cost, in the new budget, which is being prepared, to grant them the necessary measure of relief. The Committee has recommended for favourable consideration the scheme of revision proposed by Messrs. Sathe and Paranjpye. Though we know that it falls considerably short of the scheme put forward by the Sholapur Conference and acquiesced in by Messrs. Sathe and Paranjpye themselves, even the Sathe-Paranjpye scheme, if sanctioned, would afford these teachers some measure of real relief in their present plight. If however, Mr. Paranjpye, on some plea or other, fails to convey to them even that much relief, there is sure to be widespread disappointment and discontent among them. In despair, some of them have even talked of wholesale resignations. We hope, however, the Minister of Education, will yet be able to retrieve the situation and fully justify the confidence the teachers in all parts of the Presidency have placed in him.

Notes of the Day.

Hoodwinking the Duke.

A London cable informed us the other day that his Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught had telegraphed to His Majesty informing the latter of his joy at the "wonderful welcome" which the citizens of Calcutta had given him. We do not wish to question the bona fides of the Duke or to insult his Royal Highness' intelligence by suggesting that either he has wilfully misrepresented the facts or that he is unable to judge aright the "warmth" of the welcome which he is receiving wherever he goes. The Calcutta correspondent of the Associated Press, who could be trusted not to damage the prestige of local officialdom with undue severity, had told the world that there "all shops and markets were closed and vehicular traffic of all descriptions was suspended." He had further observed that, "practically speaking every Indian place of business throughout the city was closed" and that "a complete hartal" had reigned in the Indian quarter of the city. The Indian section of the city's population had done all these things with a view to enter their protest against the ways of the bureaucracy. And, yet, here is the Duke proclaiming to the world that he was the recipient of a "wonderful welcome" from the very citizens, who were trying their best, even at the risk of appearing to offend him, to demonstrate to him that their hearts were too full of grief and indignation to enable them to offer any cheerful welcome to him. The citizens of Delhi also have presented the Duke the same spectacle of aloofness and indignation. Yet, in the face of all these manifestations of popular disapprobation of the Ducal tour, the world will, no doubt, be told again that Delhi accorded a magnificent welcome to the royal guest. What is the plain significance of this enigmatical phenomenon? It is, if the truth must be told, that the Indian bureaucracy is determined by hook or crook to hoodwink both the Duke and the outside world regarding the real state of public feeling in this country. Otherwise, what was the meaning of obliging the Duke to avoid the historic thoroughfare—the Chandni Chowk—and other Indian quarters of Delhi? The same trick was played in Calcutta and the Duke was not permitted to view the Indian portions of the city.

An Imperial Tragedy.

In our own city, also, the same device is to be followed and instead of the Ducal procession passing through any one of the main arteries of the city, through which the real life of Bombay surges, such as Sheik Memon Street, Kalbadevi, Girgaon Road, Bhendi Bazar or Sandhurst Road, his Royal Highness is to be driven to Government House through the bye-lanes, as it were. The route he is to be forced to take is via Cruickshank Road, bits of Girgaum Road and Princess Street, Queen's Road and Walkeshwar Road. Nine-tenths of Bombay, which will be observing hartal and mourning on that day, will be thus effectively screened from the Duke's sight. But the bureaucracy and their mouth-pieces in the press will, doubtless, declare next morning, with brazen-faced impudence, that the Duke was given an unprecedently warm welcome by the entire city. Nay, the Duke himself will, very likely, be persuaded to believe that he has been the recipient of such a welcome, when he sees the pageant got up for his special behoof and the decorations put up on a public road by "a committee of private individuals", who shall be nameless, but who, or some of them at least, are doubtless demonstrating this loyal devotion of theirs in anticipation of favours to come at the hands of the bounteous bureaucracy. We note that the public of Delhi have utterly repudiated the welcome stage-managed on their behalf and have shown how hollow is the claim, put in the mouth of the Duke, that the hold of the bureaucracy is not based on terrorism. We have no doubt the public of this city too will also entirely repudiate the artificial welcome which is being got up for the Duke and demonstrate to the world the utter immorality of the whole camouflage. It is, indeed, a pity; nay, it is nothing less than an Imperial tragedy, that a royal messenger, who, as he says, has come to heal the wounds of the lacerated hearts of the people of this country, should appear instead as if mocking at their sorrows! Well may the angels weep at the spectacle of the Duke expressing joy at the "wonderful welcome" accorded to him by the people, when the latter were attempting to draw his attention to their sorrows!

Colour Bar in Coal.

We give free advertisement to a method, very simple, of converting third-class coal into first-class Admiralty coal. The following dialogue between Sir William Acworth and the President of the Indian Mining Association discloses the method as it came out the other day before the Railway Committee:—

> You say that when a colliery is in the hands of Indians the coal is regarded as not good but when it goes to a European it is regarded as good. Can you give us an instance?—Yes. Chatabai Colliery, when it was owned by Indians, produced only third class coal, but when it was transferred to the management of a European the output was considered first class coal. It is now on the Government locomotive list. The coal has been declared as Admiralty coal.

As the process is a bureaucratic patent, the warning has to be given that its adoption abroad will not operate.

How to Get Sidings.

Indian colliery-owners may be at their wits' ends to persuade company agents to provide sidings for the despatch of raisings. There is a simple solution and we are sure its wide acceptance will conduce to that racial harmony which the European Associationist is understood to promote. For, the same witness said:—

> "In obtaining sidings Indian colliery owners experienced almost insurmountable difficulties. The Lodna mine had to be given up to Europeans, because no siding was given as long as Indians were in charge of it. As soon as it was transferred to Europeans a siding was put in. Another instance was as regards witness's own colliery, Dharmabad. He could not get a siding. Then he sold the half of it, to a European on the condition that he would get a siding, and give witness accommodation in that siding."

We now understand what they mean by saying that company management is excellent because otherwise railway policy may become influenced by "political" considerations.

India's Contribution.

In the observations which both Prof. Gilbert Murray and Lord Haldane made on the important contributions which India is destined to make to "the larger ideals which are concerned with the ultimate destiny of mankind," as the result of her admission to the League of Nations, we have evidence not so much, perhaps, of the value of the actual contributions to the discussions at the League table made by the so-called "India's representatives," as of the tangible and steadily increasing effect which the great ideals, for which the hoary civilisation of India stands and which are now being voiced in the writings and speeches of her sons and daughters like Rabindranath, Gandhi, Bose, Aravinda and Sarojini, is having upon Western culture and life. The occasion of the admission of Indians to the hitherto exclusive circle of representatives of European civilisation has only served as very few occasions in the past have done, to facilitate the rapprochement between the East and the West in the field of thought and especially in the transmission of Eastern ideals to the West. Prof. Murray rightly realises that India, which has always set a higher value on "thought and discussion" than on "force", has a vital contribution to make to the problems vexing mankind at the present day.

Railwaymen's Gratuity and Provident Fund.

Among the many resolutions drafted by the Chairman of the Reception Committee of the All-India Railwaymen's Conference the most important that affected the welfare of the railwaymen in general was on the subject of their Gratuity and Provident Fund. Mr. Titus, who placed this resolution before the Conference, argued that those who seek employment in a railway have these benefits put before them as inducements without which probably the most intelligent amongst them would take service elsewhere where the conditions, emoluments and prospects are better. Labouring as they do under economic difficulties, they are unable themselves to put by any portion of their wages to make provision for their families for the future and on this account prefer their employers doing so on their behalf. The families of the majority of railwaymen have nothing whatever to fall back on besides the Fund and Gratuity, in the event of the death of their bread-winners. It is on the distinct understanding that these provisions would be available to their survivors, under any circumstances, that railwaymen serve on their present salaries which they would not otherwise do in the absence of such benefits and would very certainly demand enhanced scales of wages that would permit of themselves saving a portion of their earnings to provide for a rainy day. The Fund and Gratuity cannot, therefore, reasonably be reckoned as gifts but are actually the men's deferred pay to which they have a rightful claim. There have been instances where the claim of old servants for gratuity was repudiated on the ground that it was only granted as a gift to those who had rendered faithful, efficient and long service. Could anything more unreasonable be conceived than to evade payment of gratuity to a man on the plea that his services extending to twenty years or more had not been efficient and faithful? Is it only after the lapse of so many years that a man is found to be inefficient and unfaithful and would any right thinking man agree that the employers had been so indiscreet as to retain such a man in the service and pay him for a number of years? In the matter of punishment, whether a man's defaults have been inadvertent, wilful or with criminal intention, certainly punish him suitably for each offence, but there is no code of law in any civilised country that inflicts two punishments for one offence. If a man is incorrigible, get rid of him, if he is criminally convicted, let him make amends for his action according to law, but why should vengeance be visited upon his wife and children also, by depriving them of their means of existence?

SAVING LIBERALISM!

PREMIER ON PROSPECT OF GENERAL ELECTION.

HIS DEFENCE OF PRESENT POLICY.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Feb. 8.
Recd. 1-45 a.m., Feb. 11.

The fact that to-day Mr. Lloyd George held a private conference at Westminster with the Executive of the Welsh Liberal Council, is seized upon by the anti-Government papers, which allege, that he is perturbed about his waning popularity in Wales and especially regarding the Cardiganshire election. Lord St. Davids presided at the Conference.

In the speech which was published after the conference, Mr. Lloyd George said that it was impossible for him to travel to the country and defend himself as he would be engaged upon a terrible task. He asked whether Welsh Liberalism would stand by national unity or revive party faction and fights without paying any regard to the great world issues. He would sign his resignation to-morrow, if they thought that the peril was past.

The Premier alluded to certain Liberals as mocking and nagging at those who were doing their best. Mr. Lloyd George declared that by throwing in its lot to work hard for the country now, Liberalism would be saved from eternal damnation.

He asserted that the Home Rule Act was more liberal than any which had yet been proposed. "The Sinn Feiners said they must have an Irish Army and Navy. They will not get it." He declared that he would be proud if Cardiganshire gave him confidence in this hour of difficulty, when he was doing his best for the country.

The Premier made most amusing references to the forthcoming General Election talked about in the newspapers which, he said, gave him instructions daily at the breakfast table. They had arranged the matter well for the weather would be finer a few months hence.

In connection with the change of Government, Mr. Lloyd George uttered a warning with regard to the international aspect. Whether Mr. Asquith, Mr. Bottomley, Lord Northcliffe or Lord Robert Cecil were chosen, he said, the change would imply disagreement on the present policy. What would his successor say with regard to Japan, Belgium, Turkey and Greece? An overthrow of the Government policy on any of those issues, for example, the renunciation of the indemnity and the returning of the Christian populations under Turkish yoke, would certainly not be a Liberal policy.

GOVERNMENT FIRM IN SADDLE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Feb. 8.
Recd. 1-45 a.m., Feb. 11.

Sir William Sutherland, in the course of an interview dealing with the attacks upon the Coalition, said that the Government were entering upon a new session as firm in saddle as when Parliament adjourned since, when there had been no material changes in the situation.

AGITATION FOR RETURN OF HAPSBURGS.

ALLIES' PROTEST.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Feb. 9.
Recd. 2 p.m., Feb. 11.

The agitation amongst the Hapsburgs' partisans in favour of the return of the ex-Emperor, Karl, to Budapest as King has evoked reaffirmation by the British High Commissioner in Budapest that the Allies are firmly opposed to the return of the Hapsburgs to the Hungarian throne, since Hungary has always been the stronghold of selfish ambitions of the Hapsburgs. Meanwhile, serious politicians in Hungary declare that Hungary's very existence demands discontinuance of the agitation on the throne question.

PERILOUS CONDITION OF AUSTRIAN TREASURY.

ITS LIABILITIES.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Feb. 9.
Recd. 1-25 p.m., Feb. 11.

Vienna.—The deplorably perilous condition of the Austrian treasury is revealed in the statements made at a meeting of the Retrenchment Commission. It appears that Austria has a Public Debt of over one hundred milliards of crowns, or sixteen thousand crowns per head of the population. The 1921 Budget shows a deficit of thirty milliards. The Salaries and Pensions of the Civil Servants total fourteen milliards or nearly half the total revenue. Every ninth person out of the population of six and a half millions is supported by the State.

GREEK ATTITUDE

SOLID IN MAINTAINING TREATY OF SEVRES.

TURKO-GREEK CONFLICT IMMINENT IN ASIA MINOR.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Feb. 8.
Recd. 12 noon, Feb. 11.

In view of the forthcoming Near East Conference in London it is noteworthy that the Greeks appear solid in favour of maintenance of the Sevres Treaty. Speaking in the Greek Chamber, M. Collogeropoulos declared that the territorial limitations of the Sevres Treaty represented the minimum due to Greece for her sacrifices. All the party leaders including the Venizelist, M. Dangles, supported the Government.

It is reported from Rome that seventy thousand Greek troops are organising a new offensive in Asia Minor which the Turks are making great preparations to meet.

A message from Constantinople states that Mustapha Kemal has issued a manifesto to the Anatolians declaring that he is asking for new peace which will assure Turkish independence and that he will establish friendly relations with Greece, when the latter renounces the policy of conquest.

A Rome message states that speaking in the Chamber, Signor Sforza said that he was in favour of direct negotiations with the Government of Angora for Italy desired speedy reestablishment of peace in the Orient.

GERMAN BATTLESHIP AS A TARGET.

MR. DANIELS' CHALLENGE TO GENERAL MITCHELL.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Feb. 9
Recd. 2 p.m., Feb. 11.

Britain is not alone in experimenting with the German battleships, for it appears that the Americans have also arranged a mimic battle in which the ex-German battleship, Ostfriesland, will be used as a target. It is reported that Mr. Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, is so confident that a warship can safely dodge aerial bombs that he has volunteered to command the Ostfriesland during the bombardment, provided that his leading critic General Mitchell, Chief of the air operations, pilots the bombing aeroplane.

The American Naval experts appear to believe that bombing alone is ineffective.

BEGGAR RELIEF IN BOMBAY.

WANTED MONEY.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Mr. D. B. Langley, Hon. Secretary Helpless Beggars' Relief Committee, has written a letter to Bai Ratanbai Laxmidas Kuhra, 2nd Bhoiwada, Bhuleswar, in reference to hers published in the press the other day. Mr. Langley states:—

"By a curious coincidence, the Committee's voluntary workers visited Bhuleshwar the very morning your letter appeared; and there picked up about twenty human wrecks, all of them far advanced in emaciation and disease; and most of in imminent danger of death on the streets. One in particular was very ill with small-pox.

The Committee urgently needs both money and men: the former for the establishment on a proper basis of its home at Dadar; and the latter—voluntary workers only—to help two or three mornings a week in the rescue work carried day by day in the streets. Should you be able to help us in the one way or the other, either personally or by making our work and needs known among your friends, will you kindly communicate with me at the Head Police Office?"

BIHAR COUNCIL RESOLUTION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

PATNA, Feb. 11.

The results of the ballot for the non-official resolutions to be discussed in the Bihar and Orissa Legislative Council on the 16th instant have been announced. There are several resolutions for fixing the salary of the ministers in the province at 12,000 to 36,000 per annum.

One of the resolutions will recommend that in framing the budget for the ensuing year large grants should be allotted for medical relief in rural areas and that the District Boards should be urged (1) to initiate a liberal programme for the establishment of new dispensaries, and (2) to arrange that in the coming year not a single police station area remains unprovided with at least one dispensary.

Another resolution states that having regard to the financial condition of the province, payment of travelling allowance and halting charges to Members of the Legislative Council be discontinued.

Swami Vidyanand's resolution recommends to Government that the proceedings of the Legislative Council be conducted principally in Hindi and that reports of the proceedings as well as all notices, Bills and other papers connected with the procedure of the council be published in Hindi as well as in English.

THE PARIS AGREEMENT

DEBATE IN FRENCH CHAMBER.

M. KLOTZ ON FOREIGN DEBT AND TAXATION.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Feb. 9.
Recd. 1-30 p.m., Feb. 11.

Paris.—The Chamber to-day resumed the debate on M. Briand's speech on the Paris agreement. An atmosphere of tension prevailed due to M. Briand's admission in reply to the critics before the adjournment that the agreement was tantamount to a rebate of thirty-five per cent of France's claims under the Treaty of Versailles and that France during the next ten years would have to borrow internally ten to twelve milliards of francs per year.

M. Klotz, formerly Minister of Finance, denounced the financial results of the agreement. He demanded precise explanations with regard to the amount to be received by France and also explanations on the subject of British and American assistance for France with regard to her Foreign Debt. M. Klotz declared that it was impossible for the Chamber to consider the new taxation before it was assured that the German system of taxation was reformed and that the French taxpayer was thus not being subjected to the burden of paying interest on the sums which the vanquished owed to France.

M. Briand insisted that the principal advantage of the Paris Conference was the establishment of an agreement with the Allies. He insisted that a vote of confidence would enable him to continue the negotiations.

Paris.—With regard to the passage of the Gemran note relating to discussion of the counter-proposals, it is understood that the Germans will be heard in conformity with their Treaty rights, and if they submit fresh suggestions for carrying out the Paris agreement, it is possible that these will be examined but if the Germans attempt to defer the question of principles of this agreement, the Allies will certainly not accept

KATHIAWAD POLITICAL CONFERENCE.

PROPAGANDA IN JETPUR.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

JETPUR, Feb. 10.

Like Bhavnagar, Jetpur has taken keen interest in the accomplishment of the Kathiawad political conference. In an open air public meeting, presided over by Mr. D. U. Parekh, Bar-at-Law, Mr. Mansukhlal narrated the difficulties he had to undergo during the last eight months before the present stage was reached and asked for active workers, volunteers and funds. Mr. Baxhi one ex-Dewan of Idar State, then stated his vast experience both of the princes and the people and made suggestions for the smooth and quiet working of the Conference.

The audience was mightily pleased to hear the announcement that the matter in dispute between the Hitavardhak Sabha and promotors of the Conference would be referred to Mr Gandhi.

Mr. Mansukhlal also addressed the ladies assembled on the occasion of seeing off the Jain Muni Matanchandrajai to take up to the spinning wheel advocated by Mahatma Gandhi. The spinning wheel is a still in use in all parts of Kathiawad and if little more attention is paid Kathiawad will produce sufficient Swadeshi cloths for its people.

SOUTH AFRICAN ELECTIONS.

BIG LEAD OF GENERAL SMUTS PARTY

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Feb. 9.
Recd. 12 noon, Feb. 11.

Cape Town.—General Smuts has been elected for Pretoria West by a majority of 872. The position at noon to-day was as follows:—

South African Party	43
Labour	9
Nationalists	12
Independent	1

The country returns have still to make their weight felt but the feature up to the present has been the collapse of the Labourites, who have lost chiefly to the South African Party.

Amongst the defeated candidates figure Mr. Creswell the well-known Labour leader and General De Wet Minister of Justice. The polls generally were small.

Many freak candidates with socialistic tendencies participated but they practically all forfeited their deposits failing to attain the requisite proportion of votes.

The only untoward incident reported occurred at Germiston where a bottle was thrown and knocked unconscious the pro-Smuts candidate, Mr. McAlister as he was about to speak. A very angry scene ensued. Mr. McAlister won a triangular contest over the Nationalists and the Labourites.

EDUCATION IN C. P.

STAGNATION EXPLAINED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

NAGPUR, Feb. 10.

The report on the state and progress of Education in the Central Provinces and Berar for the the year 1919-20 with the resolution of the local Government thereon has just been issued, which shows a deposit increase of Rs. 9 lakhs (16 per cent.) in the total expenditure on Education. The year shows no expansion in the number undergoing instruction, the total number of scholars being the same as last year. The percentage of the male students to the male population is 4.44; of the female students 5.6 and of the total number of students to the total population 2.49. This stagnation is attributed to poor economic conditions during the year and the high cost of living. The increased expenditure has been mainy devoted to various measures for the educational machinery, but the local Government hopes that in future increase of expenditure may be devoted mainly to the extention of educational facilities and not merely to internal measures of improvement. Out of the total expenditure of Rs. 78 lakhs Rs. 49 lakhs and a half were from provincial revenues, Rs. 15 and 3/4 lakhs from local bodies, Rs. 6 and a half lakhs from fees and Rs. 6 and a quarter lakhs from private sources.

The reslution, as printed by the Director of Public Instruction, states the gradual relaxation of the Executive pressure in securing attendance and the transfer of responsibility to local bodies have also tended to reduce the numbers and are likely to have an increasing effect in this direction in the future in areas where compulsory education is not introduced, unless special exertions are made by local bodies to maintain attendance. The passing the Primary Education Act in March 1920 marks a definite stage in the history of primary education. In this province volantary efforts have reached their limit, without compulsion little further progress seems possible. It is for local bodies to decide whether they will exercise the powers conferred on them. A pessimistic note is struck regarding the progress of female education and no encouraging signs are coming from the greater parts of Berar. Public opinion seems to be insufficiently enlightened to appreciate the advantages of female education. Muhamedans are not quite backwards, although not on a level with the most advanced sections of the community.

MESPOT AND PALESTINE MANDATES.

EMIR FEISUL'S CONTENTION.

"ARABS HAVE NO OBJECTION TO BRITAIN"

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Feb. 9.
Recd. 2 p.m., Feb. 11.

Emir Feisul points out that King Hussein never ratified the Treaty of Versailles on account of the provisions which it contained concerning the mandates for the former Ottoman and Arab provinces which would not lead to the realisation of the aims for which the Arabs fought by side of the Allies. He declares that the Arabs have no objection to Britain, but, on the contrary, they desire to continue their war-time alliance. The Arab Government would take the responsibility not only for the defence of borders and the maintenance of internal security but for the economic and political interests of Britain. Emir Feisul expresses the opinion that such a solution would meet the wishes of the British taxpayer and would redeem Britain's pledges in return for which the Arabs would ask for no subsidy but merely a loan guaranteed by the riches of Mesopotamia, which would soon become a second Egypt.

SIND STUDENTS CONVENTION.

SWARAJ THE SUPREME PROBLEM.

MR. PATEL'S ADDRESS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

KARACHI, Feb. 11.

The Sind Students' Convention opened, amidst great enthusiasm, yesterday at a.m. at Khalikdina Hall, Mr. V. J. Pate presiding.

Students from all parts of Sind attended as delegates, the total number being about four hundred. Mr. Ram Motwani, General Secretary, delivered the reception address, on behalf of the students, advocating the deletion of the clause confining the Convention's activities to non-political subjects, the boycott of Government and aided educational institutions, and changing the name of the Convention to that of Sind National Service League.

BE SOLDIERS OF SWARAJ.

Mr. Patel, in the course of his presidential address, said that he had not come with the determination to empty the Sind College but to guide them in their deliberations at this important juncture and help them in coming to a right decision. The question before them was whether they should suspend their studies and enlist as soldiers of Swaraj of continue their studies in the existing institutions. India, once one of the richest countries in the world, was now the poorest, which was due to foreign domination. Petitions and prayers, inspired by faith in the British rule, had failed. Lokmanya Tilak had lost faith years ago, and he joined Mahatma Gandhi at Amritsar owing to the supreme necessity of the moment, namely, unity. Mahatma Gandhi, some months later, lost faith and came out with his programme of Non-Cooperation. Regarding the boycott of Government and aided educational institutions, the Calcutta resolution was advisory. The Nagpur Congress resolution was a mandate and it called upon students over sixteen to withdraw. The problem before them was of Swaraj, not of education. If they realised that British Government in India was unmixed evil he would tell them that it was sinful on their part to receive education in Government-aided schools and colleges.

After Mr. Patel's speech the Convention dispersed to meet again at 5-30 in the evening.

O. & R. RY. MEN ON STRIKE

REPORTED INTIMIDATION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LUCKNOW, Feb. 11.

Yesterday the men of the Carriage and Wagon shops of the O. and R. Railway struck work without warning and without formulating any grievances. They marched to the Loco shops which they entered with shouts of "Gandhi ki Jai" and forced the loco men to cease work. An attempt was also made to prevent up-mail leaving today. There are pickets everywhere and all men who want to work are being intimidated with the result that engineering, signal and stores staffs are unable to get to work. Part of the running staff in Lucknow is also out. The railway Workers' Association repudiate strike.

About a thousand strikers went to the cabin yesterday and pulled out the Assistant Station Master and wandered round the station trying to pull out all traffic staff, but promptly on receipt of a message, the Station Master, Mr. Mathews went to the Cabin and met the crowd. He spoke to men and got traffic men released. Considerable detentions were caused to all passenger trains. Every man that comes has been stopped by crowd outside and so far only the passenger trains have been started but goods trains have been stopped entirely.

Strikers are parading streets, and influencing the Indian workers to attend a monster meeting to be addressed by Mr. Gandhi who is expected here to-day.

STRIKE ON B. B. & C. I. RAILWAY.

PAREL WORKSHOP CLOSED

LOCKOUT DECLARED.

About 5,500 workmen of the B. B. and C. I. Railway Workshops at Parel struck work yesterday. It appears that the employees attended to their duties in the various departments of the factory as usual Thursday morning, but at about 9 a.m. all of a sudden they struck work. Their demands are as under:—

(1) Increase in their present wages.

(2) Payment of grain compensation allowance due to them for the last five months.

(3) Gratuity to certain strikers which has been withheld since 1913 for having struck work in that year.

In reply to the above demands, the following notice was put up at the main gate by the railway authorities:—

"(1) Wages due for the last month (January) will be paid next Monday.

(2) Arrears of wages due for the last five months will be paid on the 10th March."

In the afternoon men started throwing stones at the up and down trains passing by the workshops as they had collected in the compound of the workshops which are adjacent to the railway lines.

THE LOCK-OUT.

The Loco. Superintendent put up the following notice at the gate at about 4 p.m.:—

"If the workmen do not resume their work by 4-30 p.m. they will be considered having gone on strike and the workshops will be closed at 5-30 p.m. to-day. The Agent has ordered that if the workmen struck their work, they will not get their increased wages and will also lose their gratuity."

The workmen did not pay any attention to the above notice and peacefully left the workshops at about 5-30 p.m.

Superintendent Jones, Sergeant McCarthy, Sub-Inspector Patil and a party of police constables immediately repaired to the scene, assisted by two European officers of the mounted police and twenty sowars, who remained there for the whole day. Railway police pickets were also stationed at the Lower Parel and Elphinstone Road Stations.

SITUATION ON FRIDAY.

On Friday morning the strikers erected a good deal of trouble at Parel. They had thrown stones at the passing trains the previous evening, but on Friday, for some time, all traffic between Parel and Elphinstone Road having been stopped by the strikers, people going to and from Bombay were very much inconvenienced, particularly those employed in public offices.

In the morning some eight thousand men collected near the workshops, but they remained quiet, without creating any sort of disturbances. The doors of the workshop were closed, as notified by the Agent. After talking among themselves for some time the men went to Churchgate in two special trains, to interview the Agent of the Railway.

DEPUTATION WAITS ON AGENT.

At the Churchgate Station they collected on the maidan near the B. B. and C. I. Railways offices, and sent ten men in a deputation to the Agent. It is not yet known what took place between the men and the authorities of the Railway A police force was kept ready for any eventuality, but the men were very quiet.

Between Parel and Elphinstone the men collected in large numbers about 9 a.m. and all the trains from Virar were stopped at Dadar, and the trains from Churchgate were stopped at Mahalaxmi; that meant all train service was stopped for some time. The men stood on the railway lines and stopped the trains from proceeding further; at some places they placed heavy iron bars across the line. The authorities, however, were able to resume train service, and they also succeeded in removing all the impediments on the but. At the time of writing this report, there were rumours rife that the men intended returning to work in the afternoon.

RESULT OF CONFERENCE.

STRIKERS GET INCREASE SIMILAR TO G. I. P. RAILWAYS.

The Railway authorities refused to see Mr. F. J. Ginwalla who headed the deputation of the men. They said he was an outsider and that he had no right to be there. The result of the conference is stated to be that the men must resume work by 8 a.m. to-day; they were granted a similar increase as the G. I. P. Railway men It would be retrospective from October 1919. The men were also promised their pay for the day they were on strike, provided they returned to work on Saturday morning. The men were apparently satisfied with these arrangements and they returned by a special train.

The menial employees of the Running Shed also struck work, yesterday. The Matunga workshops were not affected.

CARRIAGE AND WAGON WORKSHOPS CLOSED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LUCKNOW, Feb. 10.

Men of the Carriage and Wagon Workshops of the O. and R. Railway went on strike to-day. Mr. A. R. Wallace, I.C.S., City Magistrate, went to the station, accompanied by the Superintendent of Police and a detachment of police. He found the men were trying to get the firemen and drivers to join them. He had a man arrested for throwing stones at the Punjab Mail. Immediately afterwards, Mr. Wal-

RULE OF CLOSURE.

ITS OPERATION AND ABUSE.

RECREATIONS IN PUBLIC PARKS.

A meeting of the Municipal Corporation was held on Friday Mr. V. A. Dabholker presiding, when the proposition brought forward with a view to deleting the rule in regard to closure was discussed at some length. It was stated that in the time of the present President closure was applied too offen to the detriment of proper discussion of a subject. Dr. Velker said some members of the Corporation had made it a business of theirs to move closures in and out of season, and suggested that they should be appointed Ministers of Closure in the new Councils. He complained that the rule was not applied properly, as it would have been if it were in the hands of an experienced President. The President read out a statement showing that while Mr. Fuzla's name occurred too often there were other persons also who moved the closure. Ultimately the question was refused to a Committee for report.

The Corporation considered a letter from the Commissioner in reference to a letter "suggesting that the Municipality should provide attractions for the working classes such as Indian music, swings and merry-go-rounds in the parks proposed to be opened in the northern part of the City.

Dr. S. S. Batliwalla moved that the writer of the letter be informed in the terms of the Commissioner's letter. He thought the recommendations made for the Commissioner were very satisfactory particularly in regard to the provision of Indian music, in places of recreations. The Commissioner, however, had not made any mention about the provision of play gounds.

Dr. D. B. Master moved a rider that the Commissioner should look out for plots in the De Lisle Road locality in consultation with the Committee and report.

The motion was adopted together with the rider.

CLOSURE RULE.

Mr. Fazal Ibrahim Rahimtulla, moved: Since the adoption of the Closure Rule our experience shows that the members of the Corporation are, time after time, debarred from expressing their honest opinion on the subject under discussion and in nine cases out of ten the proposer has been deprived of his inherent right of reply which has irritated many a member. Hence the Corporation are of opinion that Rule No. 28 be deleted from the Procedure Rules of the Corporation.

Dr. K. E. Dadachanji, seconding said it was always dangerous to arm the President with such wide powers, as they were likely to be misused.

DR. JEHANGIR'S AMENDMENT.

Dr. Jehangir Cursetji said as the rule was applied in the Corporation it was detrimental to proper discussion of any questions. He moved an amendment that the proposition be referred to the Procedure Rules Committee for report.

82 CLOSURE MOTIONS IN 5 MONTHS!

Dr. M. B. Velker moved an addendum to Dr. Cursetji's amendment that the rule be, in the meantime, suspended pending the Committees report.

He said during the last five months as many as 82 times the closure was moved, and it was allowed 75 times. There were something like 40 meeting during that time, and it meant that at every meeting the closure was applied twice. In the first place, because they were new they were not able to catch the eye of the President, whenever they rose to speak they were told that either Dr. Sukhia was speaking or that Mr. Cowasji Jehangir was going to speak and in the meantime the closure was applied. He had found from his experience that there were one or two persons who were always ready to bring these motions of closure.

The Corporation then adjourned to Monday next.

PERSIAN STUDIES IN GERMANY

(BY G. K. N.)

"With this I fulfil the promise given in the introduction of the first part of my contribution to the elucidation of Sasan an jurisprudence. On account of a variety of reasons it appears later than I had hoped. But I am far from believing that the fresh contribution was awaited. For how many are there, indeed, who in these days brother themselves about Pahlavi and Sasanian jurisprudence?

About a dozen years ago when the unsurmised manuscript treasures of Turfan equally from the standpoint of linguistics and contents became known, the exceptation was cherished that they would give a powerful impetus to research on the influence of mediaeval Iran and at first this appeared to have been really so. The Iranists felt themselves impelled to new efforts. But then came on Death and took the ghastly toll of Justi, Hubschmann Horn, Salemann, Mann and Gauthiot. All these left us in the midst of a few years and with them has perished many a half commenced work. And of the few veteran Iranists who remain, some have unfortunately for years now turned away from these studies. The Iranian studies are drying up.

But the younger generation? The aftergrowth? Science cannot prosper if regard is confined to material means. And yet solicitude for material means is to-day more imperative than ever. The academic course has for the last forty years since I joined it grown ever more plutocratic. It is in the nature of things that an Iranist can harbour no hopes of an immense honorarium. That applies equally to the Indianist. But the latter even when devoting himself exclusively to matters Indian and to Indo-Germanic philology and totally laying aside Iranian investigation has the prospect of attaining to a pecuniarily advantageous professorship. But for the Iranist who is nowhere without an equipment of philological knowledge and without the acquisition of Indian studies, —for him no such hopes exist. The Iranian studies are desiccating,—unless—as I am convinced on historical grounds—the preference accorded to Indianism over Iranianism is cancelled or is at least circumscribed and unless alongside of Chairs for Indian Philology are also established those for Iranian Antiquities or at least for Aryan Linguistics. And I hope to live to see that day."

The above pathetic note is by Professor C. Bartholomae of Heidelberg, the recognised master of Iranian phonology and the author of the unique Avesta lexion. It is appended to the second in the series of studies, of astounding erudition, on Sasanian jurisprudence. The Sasanian was the last Zoroastrian Empire in Persia. Its antiquities and influences are likely to come much more into light since it is quite on the cards that equal concessions for achaelogical investigations will be accorded to all the rival States in Mesopotamia. The results of the research, partial and in first instalment, may be expected positively to revive India's interest in Persia. Meanwhile, I seek to lay before the widest public through the "Bombay Chronicle," Professor Bartholomae's appeal. The Parsis have rich endowments for research. It would be a shame to let Iranian studies wholly die in Germany. Our political pre-occupations and political sympathies should not prevent due recognition of Germany's labours in the province of Orientalism. To France we are naturally drawn by recent and material considerations. But India ought not to be slow in acknowledging her indebtedness to learned Germany. Fortunately, an admirable example for us is set by Oxford whose professors recently issued an oirineeon to fraternal Germans. Professor Bartholomae is content with briefly indicating the sad plight of scholars and scholarship in his country, as regards old Persia. Other exponents of Eastern research are acrimonius. The editor of the second edition of the German History of the Qoran complains for instance, of its author being practically starved to death owing to the Anglo-American blockade. If that be true, it was an act of war. As such only we have to accept it. In our own interest however, we may be less neglectful than we are. If Germany, is still undearable to certain eyes, let wealthy Indians turn to Oxford. Since the death of Dr. Lawrence Mills, the Avesta chair there has lapsed. If a Tata or Petit re-establishes it, German talents will be duly encouraged. For with the exception of a couple of scholars in France and A. Christensen in Scandinavia, there are few authorities outside Germany whom weathy England could offer professorship of Iranian linguistics. And all or almost all American teachers of Orientalism have had their training in Germany. Some Bombay bodies have of late evinced revived literary interest in Persia. If these lines do not make a direct appeal to those in a position to respond, I shall personally feel grateful should any one of the said local associations listen to the call of humanity as well as humanities. I am told the energetic Mr. B. F. Bharucha and his Rathestar Society are as likely as any other body to concern themselves in the revival of Iranian studies. Will these gentlemen take this as a personal submission?

Indians—Hindu and Moslem students have no longer left the monopoly of Persian research tt pioneer Parsis—may well draw their inspiration from the magnimous step of the Oxford men of letters who take upon them slves thus to address the sarvants of the country lately at war with them:

"Since there will be many of you who fully share our heartfelt sorrow and regret for the breach that the war has occasioned in our friendly intercourse, and since you cannot doubt the sincerity of the feeling which engendered and cherished that old friendliness, you must we believe, be sharing our hope for its speedy re establishment.

We, therefore, the undersigned doctors, heads of houses, professors, and other officers and teachers in the University of Oxford now personally approach you with the desire to dispel the embitterment of animosities that under the impulse of loyal patriotism may have passed between us.

In the field where our aims are one, our enthusiasm the same, our rivalry and ambition generous we can surely look to be reconciled, and the fellowship of learning offers a road which may—and if our spiritual ideals be alive must—lead to a wider sympathy and better understanding between our kindred nations.

While political dissensions are threatening to extinguish the honourable comity of the great European States, we pray that we may help to hasten that amicable reunion which civilization demands. Impetrent ratis quedies . . . . . impetrature est."

AGRICULTURAL CRISIS IN KANARA.

A PLEA FOR FOOD FOR POOR.

REPRESENTATION TO GOVERNOR.

The following representation has been made to the Governor of Bombay:—

The agricultural population of Bhatkalpetha, Kanara district, in a public meeting assembled represent for consideration the following:—

The use of talichakka palm trees, as recognised foodstuff of ariculturists, enjoyed free of charge from time immemorial even under the British Raj until the Gulal factory was started at Honavar. Fees have been charged since and ungrudgingly paid, although it is very unjustifiable. The allotment was tolerable till 1920. 250 trees are allotted this year for the agricultural population of 30,000 of this petha. Bhatkal is inadequate ranger is recommended for the actual requirements with the list, but discarded. Influential people are having partial allotments; others are starving; famine condition is continuing for the last five years; ragi is selling five seers against twenty per rupee. The Forest Department have refused further allotment. The condition is intolerable. The Forest Department makes an impracticable offer of cumbri.

Twenty miles away, simultaneously, agricultural operations are impossible Pray grant free allotment as before. We are awaiting orders for three weeks. Otherwise. proceeding to the jungle, after remitting fees under protest to the ranger Honavar, and construcing silence as approving our action. Pray don't take discredit by refusing food to poor men on payment.

RAILWAY COMMITTEE.

MR. DORAISWAMI'S EVIDENCE.

The Indian Railway Committee resumed its settings at the Secretariat, Bombay, on Friday, Sir William Acworth presiding.

Rao Bahadur Himatlel Dhirajram, replying to the Chairman, said he was in favour of state-management of railways, and did not think there was any need to get the assistance of the companies. He was of opinion that some inducement should be given to turn a company domiciled in England into a company domiciled in India, but had not thought what the inducement should be. He though the Board ought to have a permanent chairman nominated by Government. There should be a member for Railways in the Council.

MR. NENSEY'S EVIDENCE.

Mr. Jivraj G. Nensey, Hon. Secretary, Indian Passenger's and Traffic Relief Association, and Mr. S. V. Doraswami were examined on behalf of the Association. The secretary in the course of his written statement said:—

That the Railways owned by the State should, in the opinion of my Committee, be managed directly by the State and not by companies on profit sharing basis. The evolution of the Indian Railway System conclusively proves the disastrous results of the company regime. As railways constitute big monopolistic undertakings, the State is a better manager than companies. In India where the State already owns the trunk lines the financial interest is supreme. From the financial point of view and on grounds of public policy, as well as for various reasons, Government operation of the State railroads should be preferred to company working.

MR. DORASWAMI'S EVIDENCE.

Replying to the Chairman, Mr. Doraswami said the case of the state management of railways had not been adequately represnted, because those railways were practically isolated and the conditions of the parts of the country through which they ran were not quite the same as those applying to some of the railways managed by companies. Besides, most of the grounds raised against state management in other countries were not applicable to this country. Those railways whose contracts had expired should have been taken over and not leased again. In the case of those railways whos contracts would expire in a few years, those railways should be taken over. In the case of other railways whose contracts had still to run many years he would not advocate compulsion but persuasion, but in the case of others suggest postponing their taking over till the two or three big lines were taken over.

The witness further said the Japanese workshops were self-contained and the same should be done in India. He agreed it would be a good plan to have a Council with representatives of public opinion on it to look into the grievances of third-class passengers, but he would also suggest appointing somebody on the railway administration to make periodic investigations and attend to the passengers' grievances.

"PRESSURE AND PERSUASION!"

THE LATEST FROM NAGPUR.

DEPUTY COMMISSIONER'S HIGHHANDED ACTION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

NAGPUR, Feb. 11.

Recently, in the local cotton market a three-anna fund was started, probably, with a view to utilize the collections towards the national work. All cotton brokers and sellers of cotton and almost all native buyers except Messrs. Ralli Brothers and Volkart Brothers and local mills began to pay one anna each per cart of cotton. The Deputy Commissioner, Nagpur, suddenly summoned a few buyers and all cotton brokers and warned them not to pay the fund as such fund is against Government. Cotton brokers seem to have explained to the Deputy Commissioner that the fund was intended for industrial purposes, but he not being satisfied with their explanations and assurances gave a severe warning that, if they continue to pay towards the fund, he will have to take steps against them.

The fund was consequently discontinued.

LATEST CABLE.

ANGLO-AMERICAN RELATIONS

"MOST FRIENDLY".

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Feb. 9.
Recd. 9-35 a.m. Feb. 12.

A Section of American Press which, in order to stir up trouble between the United State and Britain, has recently been making capital out of Mr. Chamberlain's statement that the United States two years ago had rejected proposals for the cancellation of the whole of the Allied International Debts, has now found a new cataract in the suggestion that the Foreign Office Authority has raised an alarm of war between the United States and Britain at a conference of the American pressmen in London. Cablegrams on this subject have caused much amazement in Washington. Newspapers have refrained from leading articles but interviews with Mr. Colby and a number of Senators have been published describing the report as incredible and preposterous.

The truth is, Reuter is informed, that Sir Auckland Geddes, during his stay in London, was approached by a number of American journalists who desired interview with him but were asked to meet him at a later date at the Foreign Office. Sir A. Geddes after impressing them that his remarks were most confidential referred to the difficulties which were brought about by overburdening of cables which prevented a full explanation of facts. He thought that it would be most advisable for the correspondents to avoid cabling matter which was calculated without full explanation to dusturs relations between the United States and Britain. Sir A. Geddes said that owing to various causes there were at present certain outstanding points between the two nations and that nothing should be said or done which might end to accentuate them.

It appears that exaggerated version of Sir A. Geddes' remarks was cabled to America by representatives of American agencies with a total disregard to the seal of conference. The Associated Press of America, however, which was represented at the gathering abstained from cabling any part of the confidential statement.

RELATIONS MOST FRIENDLY.

A later message states:—with reference to the Anglo-American relations canard, Reuter is informed on the highest authority that relations between Britain and America are most friendly. The British Government anticipates an early and satisfactory settlement of the outstanding questions with the United States. It is emphasised in high quarters that the idea of hostilities with America is too ridiculous to merit discussion. Never has the wish of Britain to settle the points at issues been so strong as to-day and this is believed to be the view of the American Public opinion. The Foreign Office disclaims all knowledge of the statement in the American press and expresses conviction that any question arising between Britain and the United States can be settled without a difficulty whether with the existing or succeeding administration.

BOTHWEL OUTRAGE.

SINN FEINERS CONVICTED.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Feb. 9.
Recd. 9-35 a.m. Feb. 12.

A Sinn Feiner has been sentenced to ten years' penal servitude and three others to eight years each in connection with Bothwel outrage on October 28th.

The judge summing up said that there was good reason to believe that the outrage was the work of Sinn Fein organisation whose headquarters were somewhere in the West of Scotland.

SEA SURROUNDING BRITISH ISLES.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

Waters surrounding the British Isles are the grave of 41 thousand seamen. Vessels belonging to the British Empire alone which were sunk number 4696, their gross tonnage being nine and a half million of which 3781, whose gross tonnage amounted to eight and a half millions, were due to the enemy action.

AERONAUTICAL EXPERIMENTS

ON STRICT IMITATION OF NATURE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Feb. 9.
Recd. 1-30 a.m., Feb. 12.

A Strictter imitation of nature is the chief principle on which the aeronautical experiments are present being conducted. A report of the Advisory committee bears evidence of the efforts which are being made to evolve a birdlike aeroplane with its engines housed within a body and experiments with this type of machine have proved most promising. Statistics show that wind as the element of danger is almost engligible as also is fire for which only four accidents during the past six months can be accounted. Experiments have been carried out with regard to the deterioration of aeroplane fabric in tropics.

THE DUKE'S SPEECH.

PRESS COMMENTS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ALLAHABAD, Feb. 10.

Commenting on his Royal Highness' speech at the inauguration of the Legislatures, the "Pioneer" says:—It is to be hoped the appeal will be responded to by all save those who can see no good in the British administration in India, and remarks the speech should exercise profound influence on the British and Indian opinion in this country.

The "Leader" says:—The speech while it made no startling announcements, was yet inspired with a spirit of goodwill, and contained an assurance of good faith, which deserves better response than the churlish cry of Non-Cooperation.

The "Independent" says:—"It was a remarkable speech, and we believe the Duke was sincere in his utterance, and democracy or no democracy, we could well wish it was within his power to do his will with India."

CALCUTTA PRESS.

Commenting on the Delhi inaugurations' papers single out his Majesty's message in the Duke of Connaught's appeal. The Anglo-Indians hope past indeed be buried, whereas the attitude likely to be adopted by the Non-Cooperationist papers, which hitherto had not commented, indicated by headline.

The "Amrita Bazar Patrika" says:—"The Royal message is barren and is not capable of soothing the lacerated heart of India."

The "Statesman" believes a vast majority of the British in India are prepared to meet Indians more than half-way ready to dismiss the painful memories from their minds and recognise fully what very many Indians must have felt when they read the methods employed to repress disorders in the Punjab. It appeals to both sides to revise judgments and unite to make good hopes of the future.

The "Englishman" considers the duty of whole India is to accept the appeal and open a new page whereon the old animosities follies and disputes will no more be recorded.

The "Indian Daily News" fervently hopes for success of the appeal, but doubts if it will satisfy all parties. It points out "the Indians want something substantial, not words. His Majesty promises Swaraj. It is very difficult to say if the offer will be eagerly accepted by the Indian people generally."

MADRAS PRESS.

Commenting on the Duke's speech at the inauguration of the Legislatures at Delhi, the "Hindu" says:—"While none will question the Duke's sympathy and his very sincere desire for peace, we cannot anywhere find any signs of appreciation, either on his part or on that of those who gave him instructions, of the causes which have led to the present unhappy situation." The paper asks, "Cannot the Duke see that there is no bridge possible between the Dyer Fund and Jullianwalla Memorial? Forgiveness implies repentence, and of that commodity we have not come across a single trace either in the House of Lords or the public represented by the "Morning Post" or the vast majority of the European community in India."

SUBURBAN RAILWAY SERVICE

AN ASSURANCE FROM THE G. I. P. RY. COMPANY.

Regarding the complaint of the Indian Passengers and Relief Association regarding the irregular running of suburban service, the Deputy Traffic Manager of the G. I. P. Railway in a letter to the Secretary of the Association says:—

The arrangements for communicating to intermediate stations alterations in the scheduled time-table of Suburban trains necessitated by the cancellation of such trains or other causes will be investigated and made as efficient as possible. If the service is entirely disorganised for any reason, the fact will be notified and all trains will be stopped at every station on through and local lines respectively.

When passengers are over-carried owing to changes in the time-table schedule not being intimated to intermediate stations, provided that they return to the station to which they hold tickets by the next available train, no charge will be made for over-carrying.

When, owing to the cancellation of suburban trains, the interval between halts at certain stations is unduly extended, arrangements will be made to stop the otherwise non-stopping trains out of course at these stations.

When as a consequence of an accident or obstruction at a station beyond Dadar, no up trains are available between the hours of 10 and 10-30, to bring passengers in Bombay, endeavours will be made to turn round down trains at Dadar for the use of passengers proceeding to Bombay.

Arrangements will be made to stop the 77 down at Matunga; and this will shortly be brought into effect.

The irregular running of the suburban service during the month of January, has been due, as explained, to causes beyond our control. This was mainly due to shortage of water, inferior coal and to special locomotive difficulties not anticipated. These difficulties, it is hoped, will shortly be overcome and punctuality in the service maintained. The inconvenience which the public has experienced during the last few weeks is much regretted.

DUKE'S VISIT TO BOMBAY.

CITIZEN'S PROTEST,

CORPORATORS' ACTION CONDEMNED.

A meeting of the residents and ratepayers of A, B and C Wards was held, under the presidentship of Mr. J. M. Mehta, in the Jain Mahajanwadi, Mandvi, last Monday, for the purpose of expressing the disapproval of the ratepayers of the resolution passed by the Bombay Municipal Corporation for voting an address to H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught in the name of the citizens of Bombay. The Mahajanwadi was packed with an audience of over 8,000 people.

The President, in the course of his speech, said the Duke's procession is fixed to pass by the Princess Street into the Queen's Road, past the Sonapur Grounds, and onwards to the Malabar Hills. The change in these two respects is undoubtedly due to the apprehension of the Government that the Duke would not be hospitably received by the people, who are carried away by the resolution of Non-Cooperation, as passed by the Indian National Congress, which inter alia says that all Governmental functions are to be avoided. We meet to-night to wake up the Corporators to their duty to their electors, who are all bound by the resolution of the Congress, and who are, therefore, going to keep themselves away from the Duke's procession. The Corporators may afford to give the go-by to the wishes of their electors, namely, that no address be given to the Duke in their name, but the Corporators should remember that their tenure of office is nearing its close and that at the next election they stand the chance of losing all possibilities of being re-elected. But, gentlemen, we should not suppose that we have no duty devolving on ourselves; there is the duty of maintaining our self-respect and the principle of Non-Cooperation of Mahatma Gandhiji, by observing a completo hartal while the Duke is in our midst.

Messrs. D. Dharamsey, B. N. Motiwala, Kamdar and Dr. Velkar also addressed the meeting.

The following resolutions were passed unanimously:—

(1) That the ratepayers of the A, B and C Wards express their disapproval of the conduct of their representatives in the Corporation in voting an address to the Duke of Connaught in the name of the citizens of Bombay, and call upon the representatives to abstain themselves from participating in the function of presenting the Corporation's address to the Duke.

(2) That a hartal be observed on the 21st February, the day of the Duke's arrival in Bombay and the 25th, the day of the inauguration of the new Council and the 28th, the day of the Duke's departure from Bombay.

PRINCE'S CHAMBER.

PRESS COMMENTS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ALLAHABAD, Feb. 9.

Commenting on the inauguration of the Chamber of Princes at Delhi, the "Pioneer" says:—"It emphasised, what may be expected of them again in time of crisis, that unity and co-operation between His Majesty's representatives in India and the Princes of India will be a powerful factor in the progress of this great land."

The "Independent" comments on the absence of the Nizam, Mysore and Baroda and says the Chamber of Princes is really a conference of the smaller States interested in getting away from the control of political agents and anxious to come into direct contact with the Government of India.

THE DUKE'S SPEECH

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—The long-respected and much vaunted speech of His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, which was according to our friends of the Moderate Camp, to censure the bureaucrats, soothe the outraged feelings of the down-trodden Indians, enumerate the boons and blessings which were going to be showered for the sacrifices of India, in men, money, and material, during the great war, and which would wipe away the humiliations heaped on the devoted heads of her sons and daughters during the terrible days of martial law, has been delivered at Delhi at the inauguration of the Council of State and the Legislative Assembly on the 9th inst., and has once more plainly established the fact that His Royal Highness has been made a mouthpiece for glorifying the bureaucratic rule. Well might the people ask whether the famous proclamation of 1858, of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria "In their prosperity will be our strength, in their contentment our security and in their gratitude our best reward" which was quoted in the ducal speech, was not out of tune. For it is no use disguising that the people are miserably poor, and have suffered so many insults and humiliations, that they have become discontented, and instead of being grateful are now suspicious of every so-called good action of the rulers. Then there are somethings which would have been better if left unsaid. For instance "As His Excellency the Viceroy has observed the principle of Autocracy has all been abandoned." But in the place of Autocracy, the absolute rule of one man to whom all from the highest to the lowest are responsible, the absolute rule of bureaucracy, i.e of a class consisting of some hundreds of members who have installed, which though in theory responsible to some one in higher authority is terribly autocratic in practice as one single case out of many the case of the deportation of Mr. Horniman clearly proves. The personal word with which His Royal Highness concludes his speech though showing the goodness of his heart cannot heal the wound which is ever kept open by such actions of the officials as the following:—

THE RAILWAY CONFERENCE,

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—I regret that the "Bombay Chronicle" of Saturday, 5th February, 1921, (page 11, column 2 about 75th line and downward) contains a few remarks, in connection with Mr. Khan's proposal of electing Rai Saheb Chandrika Pd. as President of the First All-India Railwaymen's Conference, that cast an unmerited slur upon Lala Lajpatrai. This is a grievous mistake committed by your reporter, for I think it should have been easily omitted, as it was strongly criticised by me and other delegates and even not supported by the presidential speech. But unfortunately your reporter overlooked this. I would have not drawn your attention to it, but, Sir, you being in a better position than myself to understand the mischief that it is likely to do, will not deny that, reading between the lines it will drive one to the conclusion that Lalaji was not elected because he was a Government suspect and his election would have reduced the pandal of the Conference to a place for political discussion and thus would have disturbed the smooth working of the Conference. I am not a blind lover of Lala Lajpatrai and when called upon to support Mr. Khan about the election of Rai Saheb Chandrika Pd. as our President, I gladly joined hands with him. But I wish we must learn how to respect our own leaders and countrymen. I am sorry the proceedings of our Railway Conference show that we are still ignorant of it. It is right as Mr. Titus, our Chairman is of opinion, that politics should be kept at a safe distance while speaking upon railway affairs, but it is to be regretted that this we did not do. While a resolution thanking Lalaji in response to his sympathetic telegram was taken in political light, I, with all my regard and admiration for Mr. Horniman, am compelled to say the resolution condemning the action of the Government of India, the Bombay Government and the Secretary of State for India in deporting Mr. Horniman was not taken in that light. I am in my heart of hearts very glad that the resolution concerning Mr. Horniman was unanimously passed and wish that numberless resolutions in this connexion may be passed from all Conferences and Congress in India. But two things give me pain. First that this our action makes us false to our principle and secondly to know that so long as we will not learn how to honour our own countrymen, it will be an insurmountable task for us to regain Mr. Horniman in our midst—a thing which is as essential for securing our liberty and redressing our grievances, as the enlistment of Lala Lajpatrai's sympathy on our behalf and for our behoof.—Yours, etc.,

BISWA NATH MUKERJI, L.M. & S.,
Vice-President,
B. & N. W. Railwaymen's Association, and its delegate to the All-India Railwaymen's Conference.

Bombay, Feb. 7.

MR. SASTRI'S LECTURES.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—In your issue of the 4th February, in the course of an editorial paragraph you write: "We cannot help wondering why Liberals, having found that their ideas are unwelcome to the Bombay public, insist on holding public meetings for their ventilation." I take this to mean that you have despaired of the Non-Cooperators upholding the standard of high spiritualism set before them by Mr. Gandhi and that you advise the Liberals to behave like younger brothers. This advice may be very well in a private family affair but in public matters it comes with an ill grace and smacks of a prejudiced mind. In the first place every individual has a right to give expression to his views whatever they may be. Why should that right be sacrificed, you do not take any pains to show? There was a time when the radical party was in a hopeless minority; did it at that time cease to give "ventilation" to its ideas, or did the party in majority enact such disgraceful scenes scenes of rowdyism as are the order of the day now, although there was no leader, then, with so high spiritual ideas about "Non-Violence." The inscriptions hung up in Japanese Restaurants inspire you to offer some wholesome advice to the people for the benefit of new comers and domiciled Europeans and Anglo-Indians; I should think a plan on similar lines may be adopted for the benefit of Non-Cooperators also.

In the second place I would enquire what proof you possess that the views of Liberals are "unwelcome" to the "Bombay public," unless your "Bombay public" consists of those rude elements among Non-Cooperators whose militancy cannot be a source of pride or credit to any movement except the one to which they outwardly pin their faith. If the people of Bombay did not wish to listen to lectures delivered by the Liberals, the proper and dignified course would have been, not to take leave of all good manners and sense of decency, but to Non-Cooperate. They should have absented themselves from the meetings and Mrs. Besant or Mr. Sastri would not have addressed empty chairs. The fact is that the public wants to hear all sides of the question; but some zealous Non-Cooperators, instilled by the new doctrine with ideas of disobedience and disrespect teachers, parents and other elders, are fulfilling the promise of the seed. It may also be a case of "Satan finds some mischief still for idle hands to do." The untenability of your assertion is apparent from the fact that Non-Cooperators reach the place of meeting long before the time announced and occupy all front seats so that "Non-Violent Non-Cooperation" may receive a practical demonstration with greater chances of success. Let the Non-Cooperators totally boycott meetings organized and addressed by the Liberals and we shall then see whether empty chairs face us or an audience much more sober, well-behaved and "Non-Violent" than those on whom scores of lectures on the cant of "Non-Violent Non-Cooperation" have run to seed. If your advice were accepted its logical outcome would be that voters should not go to vote because the Non-Cooperators were opposed to it and were prepared to play the hooligans. Similarly wine and other intoxicants should be avoided, not for reasons of health, morality, public peace or a happy home life but for fear of the tyrannical heel of "Non-Violent Non-Cooperation." It is a queer irony of fate that such an autocratic movement should stand as the champion of democracy. Still Mr. Gandhi has the hardihood to write to the Duke of Connaught that the people have begun to understand the "secret" of his movement, and with a presumptuousness, peculiarly his own, he asks as to what the Duke thinks about its efficacy as a worldwide movement. All that I can say is that Mr. Gandhi has yet to learn the "secret" of human nature before he can aspire to assume the teachership of the world.—Yours, etc.,

Spectacular Picturization of the World's Greatest Fairy Story

A MILLION-DOLLAR PHOTO-FANTASY BY WILLIAM FOX

The story lends itself wonderfully to picture. It has an introductory modern setting that gives it reality to the mind of those of all ages and then it fades back to the time of doublet and hose and the beanstalk that leads to the land of fairy-tales and the devouring giant.

As a matter of fact, it is the "film enchanted" to all who see it. It holds those of every age, whether they look at it with the eyes of a child and see the realization of their wonderful fairy tale or view it as grown-ups who behold the unfolding of a fascinating story done in an exquisite setting by beautiful children.

Messrs. K. D. & Brothers offer at both their Picture Houses this Week something Stupendous!

BOMBAY MARKET.

business morality and destructive of sanctity of contracts.

The resolution also expressed an opinion that if such instructions were adhered to they would have the most damaging effect upon all present and future business with India and would render impossible the continuance of past relations between suppliers in the United Kingdom and importers in India.

Sir Charles McLeod, who presided over the meeting, said they were not fettering the liberty of action in cases of individual shippers, but as a body they were determined not to allow organised repudiation of contracts.

The executive of the India Section of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce has considered the official views and suggestions with regard to dealing with the trade position in India. The opinion is expressed that any proposals must be practicable financially to the British firms concerned and must not establish a precedent which might jeopardise future Trade relations.

It is significant to note that this resistance as a body is quite natural, but one can read between the lines from what Sir Charles McLeod said when he referred to individual shippers. The liberty of action in cases of individual shippers, he said, was not fettered by the resolution. The fact is that some shippers have actually offered fifteen per cent. concession on the amount of the bills to have the payments made and if the Importing Firms were to join hands with them and help the dealers to the same extent the deadlock might be removed. This 30 per cent. would cover only half the loss which the merchants have to suffer, and avert a crises in which ultimately the Importing Firms would have to suffer to a far greater extent. The political unrest, the swadeshi movement, the gradual boycott of foreign goods, the financial stringency, the slump in Lancashire, the heavy stocks, and the apprehension regarding the future course of the market are factors which the Importing Firms must bear in mind, when they are inclined to adopt an hostile attitude towards the merchants with whom they have to deal in future. The dealers should not be put into the humiliating position of disclosing their private affairs, before any help is given. If any assistance is to be given it should be given with good grace to enable the recipient to be thankful for the same and the benefit should be extended to the whole class.

In some quarters it is stated that the Bombay Native Piece-goods Merchants' Association should not have passed such a resolution, as when times are better the Importing Firms may refuse to accept orders from the members, there being no guarantee that the same game will not be played again. But it seems to be forgotten that necessity knowns no law, and that extraordinary resolutions have to be passed as a remedy against abnormal circumstances. The threat of refusing to accept fresh business from these dealers is merely moonshine, as the importing firms will always have to depend on these merchants for business, the more so at present, owing to the tendency of many dealers to transfer their attention to swadeshi cloths in place of British goods. A good deal is being said against the Association for putting forward such an official pronouncement of their point of views, but if this had not been done, no firm would have given any countenance to the dealers individually. It will not be out of place here to mention that since several years the Bombay Native Piece-goods Merchants' Association has had the honour of being admitted by the Philadelphia Commercial Museum to permanent membership on its International Advisory Board which is composed of commercial organisations in many countries and which has been formed to cooperate with the Philadelphia Museums in the work of promoting commercial relations and of strengthening the bonds of international unity. If in this question of exchange the Association be approached in an amicable sprit by the Importing Firms, some settlement will be arrived at in the interests of all parties concerned, and the sooner this is done the better it will be for all.

SITTING "DHURNA."

MR. GANDHI'S DISAPPROVAL.

Mr. M. K. Gandhi writes in "Young India."

Some students of Caclutta have revived the ancient form of barbarity in the form of "sitting dhurna." Fortunately, the practice was stopped as soon as it was revived. They blocked the passage of their fellow students who wanted to go to the University for paying their fees or to see some officials of the educational department. I call it 'barbarity' for it is a crude way of using coercion. It is also cowardly because one who sits 'dhurna' knows that he is not going to be trampled over. It is difficult to call the practice violent but it is certainly worse. If we fight our opponent we at least enable him to return the blow. But when we challenge him to walk over us we knowing that he will not, we place him in a most awkward and humiliating position. I know that the over-zealous students who sat dhurna never thought of the barbarity of the deed. But one, who is expected to follow the voice of conscience and stand even single-handed in the face of odds, cannot afford to be thoughtless. Non-Cooperation, if it fails, will fail only through internal weakness. There is no such thing as defeat in Non-Cooperation. It never fails. Its so-called representatives may so badly represent their cause that it may appear to the spectators to have failed. Let non-cooperationists therefore beware of everything they do. There must be no impatience, no barbarity, no insolence, no undue pressure. If we want to cultivate a true spirit of democracy, we cannot afford to be intolerant. Intolerance betrays want of faith in one's cause.

DISCUSSION IN BENGAL COUNCIL.

(Associated Press.)
CALCUTTA, Feb. 10.

When the Bengal Legislative Council reassembled this afternoon, two hours were devoted to discussion of the resolution recommending stoppage of export of rice from India except for surplus remaining after country's demand had been met. To this there was an amendment substituting Bengal for India. Attention was confined almost exclusively to the main resolution and the amendment was eventually defeated without division.

The House divided and the resolution was carried by 63 votes to 31.

The Council then proceeded to discuss the motions for fixing of the Minister's salaries of which there were nine on the paper, the proposals ranging from Rs. 1,000 per mensem to Rs. 3,500, while one motion suggested the appointment of a committee to consider the matter.

Mr. Jogendra Chandra Ghose, whose motion stood first in the list proposed that the salary of Minister be fixed at that of the Under-Secretary of State for India, namely £1,500 yearly. Mr. Ghose dwelt upon the amount paid to statesmen in other parts of the British Empire who, he said, received at the most £2,000 yearly and he submitted that as a poor country India should not pay more. He mentioned he desired to see the salaries of the Executive Councillors reduced and had submitted resolution to the meeting a recommendation to that effect, which has been disallowed.

Mr. Ghose had not concluded his speech when the time allotted for him expired, and Mr. Nibaran Chandra Das Gupta moved that the consideration of the question be adjourned till after the presentation of the budget, basing his argument on the ground that it would be preferable to have the same figures.

Before the House deciding such a question, the next motion proposed that a committee of eleven members should be appointed to consider what reduction was advisable and, after this had been proposed, the Council adjourned till to-morrow.

HIGH COURT.

APPELLATE SIDE.

BRUTAL AND DELIBERATE MURDER.

TRANSPORTATION FOR LIFE

Bola Husheni and three others v. The King Emperor.

(Before the Chief Justice Sir Norman Macleod and Sir Lallubhai Shah.)

These were appeals against the decision of Mr. F. W. Allison, Sessions Judge of Kanara. He found the accused guilty of murder and abetment of murder under sections 302 and 109 of the Indian Penal Code and sentenced them to death.

FACTS.

The facts are briefly these :—

The deceased Kuppanna was a member of a respectable family of Haviks holding land in and near the village of Heggar. His father Annaya, who died some 12 years ago had two half-brothers Ramkrishna and Timmaya. Ramkrishna had two sons, Subraya and Sannaya, who were the third and fourth accused in this case. At the time of his death Kuppana was living at Adroli at the house of his sister Mahadevi. On the 15th September, the deceased left the house some little time before sunset, in order to tie up the cattle in the cattle-shed some quarter of a mile from the house. Soon after sunset he came back to the house in a grievous state. He had a wound in the abdomen from which, part of the intestines was hanging out. His throat showed marks of violence. As the state of the deceased was very critical a statement of the accused was taken. The deceased said that while he was tying up the cattle the accused Bola and Babu came up to him. Bola showed him a paper he held in his hand, and told him it was a note from his relations in Ramkrishna's house. As he took it Bola seized him by the throat and brought him down to the ground and tried to throttle him. Babu the second accused wounded him in the adomen below the navel with a sickle. When he regained his senses, his assailants were not in sight, and with great difficulty he managed to crawl home. He ascribed the attack to the members of Ramkrishna's family, and said he was quite sure that it was made at their instigation. The deceased was sent to the hospital at Karwar, where he died next day.

The first two accused were arrested on the 20th September. They made confessions before the Sub-Divisional Magistrate and adhered to them before the Committing Magistrate But in the Sessions Court they had retracted them and said they were compelled by the Police to make them.

The Sessions Judge observed that the injuries from their very nature constituted murder. He was of opinion that the confessions were made voluntarily. This was a brutal and deliberate crime and there could be no doubt that the murderers as well as their abettors had thoroughly deserved the death penalty.

DEATH SENTENCE COMMUTED.

Their Lordships after hearing the arguments confirmed the conviction, but looking to the various circumstances in the case reduced the sentence of death to that of transportation for life.

Mr. Y. N. Nadkarni appeared for the first two accused.

Mr. Nilkanth Atmaram appeared for the other two accused.

AT THE POINT OF THE SPINDLE.

(BY MRS. SARALADEVI CHAUDHARANI)

Mrs. Sarladevi Chaudharani has sent a communication to the Press, in which, addressing her Bengali Brothers and Sisters, she advocates handspinning. Mrs. Chaudharani says:

The British came to India not as an Alexander or a Buonaparte, but as a band of traders. Their aim was not the construction of an Empire but the destruction of an Industry. It was on the ashes of the spinning wheel that the foundation of the British Raj was laid. A homely craft was murdered, and the peace and plenty of Indians robbed to fatten the shareholders and directors of factory—promoting companies of England. In the words of their own historians, the British manufacturer employed the arm of political injustice to keep down and ultimately strangle a competitor—the weaver of Bengal with whom he could not have contended on equal terms. This was the beginning of the end of India's independence.

Mrs. Chaudharani proceeds:

On the wake of the ruin of the weavers followed the ruin of the agriculturists, who were often the same people, by a system of Land Taxes heavy beyond measure. Inland trade declined under a system of monopoly and coercion of "private English traders. Then followed the railroads which, constructed by foreign capital and paying interest to foreign shareholders, destroyed the living of millions of boatmen and boat-builders, cartmen and bullock-owners." The British administrators observed "there was no river in the world on which there was a larger navigation than on the Ganges; thirty thousand boatmen found their livelihood on that river as far back as 1780 and the number had since increased." Every foreigner was struck "by the constant succession of boats moving up and down the river, never appearing for a moment altogether clear, and was impressed by "the extent to which this magnificent stream ministered to the wants of commerce and of the traveller such as defied the attempt at computation." The blow was struck at its usefulness and profit to the children of the soil and help was given to further the cause of British exploitation and military aggression by the Indian Government guaranteeing a rate of interest out of revenues to Companies of British traders constructing railways in India.

An honest English administrator has remarked—

"The people of Bengal had been used to tyranny, but had never lived under an oppression so far-reaching in its effects, extending to every village market and every manufacturer's loom. They had been used to arbitrary acts from the man in power, but had never suffered from a system which touched their trades, their occupations, their lives so closely. The springs of their industry were stopped, the sources, of their wealth were dried up."

The above brief survey of British policy in India shows that the groaning of the people under foreign rule, their reduction and poverty and distress, and death by starvation with failure of crop even in a single province, all is in consequence of the loss of their manufacturing power.

But be it noted this manufacturing power of India lay not principally in her looms but primarily in her spinning wheels. The looms of Dacca are still working—using machine-made yarns of England and Japan. The hand that spun in India supplied the nation with food, comfort, and liberty. It is at the point of the spindle only that we shall win back our freedom. Our national soldiers must retrace and go back to the point of vantage which they left unwillingly a century and a half ago. By simply using hand-spun and hand-woven clothes of India we can effectually give that protection to Indian interests which has been cruelly and unfairly denied her by a foreign master. The revival and protection of a dead art, the regeneration of a lost craft, the remodelling of Indian homes, the reclothing of India by India's own hands—this is the Alpha and Omega of Swaraj.

Cloth, Cloth, Cloth everywhere, bundles and bundles of them of all sizes, shades and degrees of fineness—yet not a yard's length to call our own! It is Indian cloth which supplied the markets of the world a couple of centuries ago, yet India is the beggar today looking to other countries to cover her nakedness. Dushashana, bad Government, has been attempting to denude her, there is yet time to save her from disgrace. The sons of Bharata have only to be believers in the Sudarshana Chakra.

DR. S. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR
DIABETES SPECIALIST.

RARE AND INVALUABLE SPECIFIC FOR THE CURE OF "DIABETES."

The following are two of the numerous certificates received:—

Mr. Vithaldas P. Attawala, merchant, Bombay, writes on 28-11-20:—I was suffering from Diabetes for the last 16 years and had tried many Doctors of Bombay but without any effect. I then put myself under the treatment of Doctor S. R. Iyengar and he prescribed a course of 45 days for me and that I was completely cured at the end of the course. Before I commenced Dr. Iyengar's treatment, my urine was examined by a Bombay M. D., the per centage of sugar was more than 4 per cent. After the treatment, my urine was examined on 20th November, 1920 at Dr. Masina Hospital Cathelogical Laboratory of Bombay "Sugar was found Nil"—which means a perfect cure of the obstinate disease which had baffled the treatment of many Doctors and Physicians before. I really consider that Dr. S Rangaswami Iyengar is a SPECIALIST in this disease I recommend him to all suffering from the bad disease for the rare quality and of its valuable Drugs."

Mr. Damodher Raghoba Raote, Landlord, Worli, Bombay, writes on 3rd December 1920:—"I was suffering from Diabetes for the last 12 years and I tried many well known Doctors and M.D.'s during that period, but could not get entire cure. In September last I had a severe attack of Pneumonia which seriously affected my Diabetes disease and was under the treatment of Dr. Masina. I was cured of Pneumonia after a short time but my Diabetes disease was in an increasing state and I could get no relief. Dr. Masina examined my urine and found I was passing 6 to 7 per cent. sugar and specific gravity was 1037. Finding no relief at last, I was put under treatment of Dr. S. Rangaswami Iyengar, Specialist in Diabetes. I have much pleasure to say that after a special treatment of 35 days I found my Diabetes disease properly checked and sugar NIL and Specific Gravity 1013. "I can safely recommend Dr. Iyengar's specific to any of the suffering Diabetes patients."

Oldsmobile

Sets the pace

IN 1898 when the sturdy little one-cylinder Oldsmobile was the only motor car on the market, it set a remarkable high standard of excellence for future manufacturers to endeavour to equal.

Throughout the following 22 years Oldsmobile has always continued to set the pace in style, in comfort, in mechanical performance and in dependability.

The present day Oldsmobiles (handsome, high powered, light weight, sturdy "sixes" and "eights") set the pace in one other great essential—dollar-for-dollar value. Your search for a moderately priced car of real character will be ended at the Oldsmobile showroom.
